

June 15, 2007
For immediate release

Garden Clubs help beautify Land Trust property

Ruth Kolumber (left), president of the St. Simons Council of Garden Clubs, and President-Elect Fran Shaw contribute $1,000 to the St. Simons Land Trust for the beautification of a Land Trust property. Michelle Pugliese (right) says the donation will be used to plant wildflowers and native shrubs in the fall at a preserve on Frederica Road just south of North Harrington Road. The garden club council donated half of the amount, while the other half came from the council's five garden clubs – Cassina, Cherokee, Hamilton Plantation, Live Oak, and Neptune.

